Jason119: Hey, Mary. How's my big sister?

Mary789: Ugh! Problems at work.

Jason119: Is your boss giving you too much work again?

Mary789: No, not enough, and that makes me nervous. The company is having money problems, and things are really slow now. You know me. I like to be busy, so this is hard for me.

Jason119: I'm really sorry to hear that. What does your boss think?

Mary789: He's nervous, too, and he's not usually a nervous person. Things are bad, and he thinks some people may lose their jobs.

Jason119: Well, try not to think about it.

Mary789: That's not easy. I often can't sleep, and I feel tired when I wake up. But tell me, how are you doing?

Jason119: Well, I'm taking five classes this year. American history, English, and political science are easy, but biology and chemistry are hard. And I have exams in those two this week, so I'm not sleeping much, either.

Mary789: Because you're studying all night?

Jason119: No, because I'm feeling nervous! I must get that from you! But I am studying a lot! You can be sure of that.

Mary789: Well, study hard, and good luck! You need to do well in biology and chemistry if you want to get into medical school.

Jason119: You don't have to tell me! I always study hard, but I still get nervous.
