WHAT KIND OF FRIEND ARE YOU?

This week, we take a look at different kinds of friends.

Dedicated Friends (DFs)

DFs put their friends and family first. If you have a problem, they will discuss the situation with you and try to help you fix it. If you need money, a DF will lend it to you. DFs don't suddenly appear. It takes months or years for a person to become a DF. But one thing is sure, the best way to find and keep a DF is to be a DF yourself.

Enthusiastic Friends (EFs)

EFs may not be the friends who will lend you money or help you solve your problems, but they will show you how to get the most out of life. EFs are adventurous and want to try everything – exotic foods, roller coasters, adventure vacations, you name it! They're also optimistic. They'll get you to go camping with them, and if it rains, they'll find other ways to have a good time. EFs look on the bright side and get you to do the same.

Wise Friends (WFs)

WFs know your problems and the answers to them, but they will wait for you to bring them up first. When you're ready to discuss, WFs will listen carefully and help you find your own solutions. If you ask them what to do and you don't follow their advice, they won't bring the problem up again. Unlike DFs, WFs won't lend you money if they think you will have trouble paying it back or if they think you will use it for something that isn't good for you.

In the writer's opinion, which kind of friends . . . ?
